

Since `begin()` is called in order from right to left, and `end()` is called in order left to right, pipelining nodes B and C may call `push()` in `begin()` and `end()` without D having to handle any special cases.