

GPC Licence Arrangements

School of Computer Science, The University of Manchester
Kilburn Building, Oxford Road, Manchester M13 9PL, United Kingdom

Email gpc@cs.man.ac.uk

<http://www.cs.manchester.ac.uk/~toby/gpc/>

Tel (+44) (0) 161 275 6274 Fax (+44) (0) 161 275 6204

The GPC Polygon Clipper Library is entirely free for download and evaluation.

If, after your evaluation, you decide you wish to use GPC for a particular application you're developing, what happens next depends on whether your application is non-commercial, or commercial.

Non-commercial use of GPC

GPC is available free-of-charge for non-commercial not-for-profit developers. Examples of non-commercial use include: hobbyist, and academic research.

Commercial use of GPC

If you wish to use GPC as part of a commercial for-profit project, you must purchase a GPC Commercial Use Licence from The University of Manchester. Please email us at the address below for full details of our flexible licensing scheme.

Not sure?

If you're unsure whether The University of Manchester would consider your application as commercial or not, please ask, and we'll do our best to clarify.

Support

No explicit support services for GPC are provided by The University of Manchester. There is no warranty or other guarantee of fitness of the GPC software for any purpose. It is provided solely "as is".

Toby Howard

GPC Licensing Manager

Email: gpc@cs.man.ac.uk